  If you don't, we'll choose a new winner, and you can say your prize goodbye.
- Participants who didn't win, of course will not complain.
  That's what they agreed to, when they decided to play the game.

Liability

- Although Sinterklaas is part of this promotion, it's Coolblue B.V. that set everything in motion.
- Saint Nick's book has the addresses to every destination,
  If you'd read it, then you'd find that Weena 664 in Rotterdam is our location.
- To show how we organize this contest, we'd like to say with tact,
  That the Code of Conduct for Promotional Games of Chance determines how we act.
- Another important matter that we'd also like to say, is that there's no gambling tax that the winners need to pay.
- From time to time we also make clerical mistakes of course, but you can't claim damages from them by citing them as a source.

Privacy

  such as to see if you can earn a prize in this contest.
- Also to get in touch, because to deliver your prize,
  choosing a moment that suits you would be wise.
- The information you share with us is used for just this cause.
  We don't share it with anyone, not even Santa Claus.
- We love data, but solemnly swear, that 30 days after the contest, yours we'll tear.
